

Winter Fun

This past weekend, Friends of Wasatch Mountain State Park held a community day at Soldier Hollow. The many trails at this 2002 Winter Olympic site were completely filled with interested and enthusiastic cross country skiers and snowshoers. Skiing is available during the week at Soldier Hollow for a small fee. Don't know how to ski? Why not come to Soldier Hollow, bring the whole family, put on a pair of skis, and learn how -- what will it hurt?

Subaru Ski Fest at the Homestead

BY TERAL L. TREE

Wave Staff Writer

The second annual Subaru Ski Fest Saturday took place at the Homestead Resort on Jan. 6. The Ski Fest provided an opportunity for the community to learn how to cross country ski. The package included a trail pass, a beginner learn-to-ski lesson, and a $2 ski rental. Under normal circumstances such a pass would cost $32.

Although the turnout was lower than expected, those that participated went away with a better understanding of the sport and gained knowledge needed to continue to pursue the sport in the future.

The Cross Country Ski Areas Association put on the event with help from sponsors like Subaru and Nature Valley Granola Bars. Other sponsors of the event were Fuji Film, Sundown Nutritional Supplements, and the MBNA Cross County Ski Master Card.

The North American-wide event provided the ideal setting for those new to the sport of cross-country skiing a chance to try the sport under the tutelage of a ski instructor at a CCSAA resort.

The lesson took place under the direction of Homestead Recreation Manager Scott Randall. "Free your heel and your mind will follow" was the motto of his introduction of cross-country skiing to a group of mostly former downhill skiers.

Wasps Go 3-1 At All-Star Classic

BY COURTNEY GRESSMEN

The crowd of 3,122 wrestling fans Monday night at Jordan High School were given a pretty good taste of what rivalry really means.

The rivalry: Wasatch's Judd Sweat vs. Brighton's Rob Maxwell in the 152-pound match.

This rivalry started at the Layton Invitational over a month ago when Maxwell defeated Sweat. Then at the annual Rocky Mountain Rumble in Taylorsville, Sweat upset Maxwell to even out the score.

Sweat used both of his injury timeouts while having a 3-2 advantage. This set up the final move for Maxwell and in the end it determined the winner. Maxwell scored six points in the final seconds to take an 8-3 win over Sweat, and took a 2-1 lead in the rivalry battle.

After the match ended, almost half the crowd packed up and left, considering there were about as many Brighton fans there as there were Wasatch fans. Sweat is now 18-4 on the year.

In other matches, Wasatch's Luke Francis, who has been battling the flu bug for quite a while, came in and wrestled a tough Kip Spencer from the Deseret News team down by one. Carlisle's current record is now 18-2.

Will Webster added another victory to his 17-1 record after he pinned West Jordan's Noah Fager in the second period with 29.1 seconds left.

Webster did have an 8-3 advantage at the end of the first period, and took a 10-4 lead before he pinned Fager for the win. His current record is now 18-1.

The Wasps were the only team to have more than two guys wrestling and proved to be the dominating team once again. Congratulations Judd, Luke, Jon, and Will.

Lady Wasps Defeat Ben Lomond, Fall to Judge

In other games, the Lady Wasps junior varsity squad improved to 11-0 on the year after defeating Judge 41-26.

Fackrell had the game high with 14 points. Turner followed with nine, Whimpey and Peterson each had four a piece, and Brown, Megan Nelson, Remund, Kelsi Remund, and Brittany Berg followed with two points.

Earlier in the week, they defeated Ben Lomond 56-38.

Fackrell led all scorers with 17 points, Peterson had 12 points, Turner and R. Remund added seven, Whimpey five, and Brown four. Erin Niederhauser and Jamy Woody each added two in the victory.

The sophomores picked up their first region win with a 76-23 victory over Judge.

Turner led all scorers with 18 points, six assists, and four steals. Berg had her first double-double of the year with 10 points and 10 rebounds.

Andrea Peterson, Jennie Gardner, K. Remund, and Kidist Kennard each had eight points. Lindsay Adams, Niederhauser, and Nelson followed with four, while Jamie Bond and Woody both had two points each.

The Wasps will play Park City at home on Friday, Jan. 12. Game time will be at 7:00. They play in Vernal tonight.
